LGBTQ+ PRIDE MONTH!

HISTORY OF PRIDE

LGBTQ+ Pride Month wasn't always the celebration we know today - it started as riots.

The most notable of these riots were the Stonewall Riots in June 1969.

The Stonewall Riots began after police raided the Stonewall Inn, a gay bar in New York. This led to 6 days of protests against the police, and sparked the LGBTQ+ rights movement in the US.

SELF CARE FOR LGBTQ+ PEOPLE

Talk to someone you trust
It might feel hard to talk about how you're feeling. But many people find that sharing their experiences can help them feel better.

Find peer support
Making connections with people who have similar or shared experiences can help. This can happen in person or online.

Think about how you use social media
Social media can be a great way to connect with others. But you may also encounter LGBTQ+ abuse, anti-LGBTQ+ news and hateful comments. You might find yourself seeking out harmful things online, as a form of self-harm. It can help to review who you follow on social media. Block accounts or sites that make you feel worse.

Celebrate being LGBTQ+
You could:
- watch a film, listen to music, read a book, or enjoy art made by or about LGBTQ+ people or topics
- take part in events, such as Pride
- celebrate the achievements of other LGBTQ+ people

Look after your physical health
Taking care of your physical health can often have a positive impact on your mental wellbeing.

Find out more:

Engage in hobbies
For example, crafts, cooking, gaming
This could be on your own, or with an LGBTQ+ group - www.consortium.lgbt lists some social and hobby-based groups for LGBTQ+ people

SUPPORTING LGBTQIA+ PEOPLE

Accept them for who they are Take who they are seriously. This includes not assuming that it's just a 'phase' or a trend, or that they'll change their mind. Use their preferred terms, such as sexuality labels, chosen name, and pronouns. This includes if their preferred terms change over time.

Support them to seek help

Show them you care

Listen to their experiences

Recognise your bias
You might have set ideas about things like relationships or how someone of a certain gender should look. These ideas are not facts. It's important that we change them when they're not inclusive.

Don't ask intrusive questions

Learn about LGBTQ+ issues
But don't expect an LGBTQ+ person to teach you everything - this can be stressful and tiring.

Challenge discrimination, misconceptions and stigma

Don't make assumptions
Instead of assuming, ask the person about their own experiences. If someone corrects you about an assumption, try not to get defensive or upset. Just apologise and correct what you do in the future.

Find out more:

SUPPORTING TRANS PEOPLE

You don't have to understand someone's identity to respect it.

You can't always tell if someone is transgender simply by looking at them.

If you don't know what pronouns to use, ask
If you accidentally use the wrong pronouns, apologize and move on. Making a big deal out of a pronoun mistake may be awkward and often draws unwanted attention to the transgender person.

Think about how you use gendered language.

There is no "one right way" to be transgender.

Learn about policies affecting transgender people.

Speak out in support of transgender people and transgender rights.

Be careful and considerate about what other questions you ask.
Ask yourself:
1."Do I need to know this information to treat them respectfully?"
2."Would I be comfortable if this question was turned around and asked of me?"

Find out more:

TAKE WHAT YOU NEED

However your day is going, feel free to take whatever you need to hear :)

Who I am deserves to be celebrated	My identity, my rules
I define myself	It's never too late to find myself
I am unique and that is amazing	I deserve to feel comfortable in my own skin
I am deserving of joy	I am worthy of love
I am loved	I do not need to fit into a box
I am enough	I am who I say I am
I am be whoever I want to be	I am so proud of myself

WHAT POSITIVE EXPERIENCES DO YOU HAVE OF BEING LGBTQ+?

Grab a post-it note and stick your positive experiences here!

TRANS RESOURCES

allsorts youth project
allsortsyouth.org.uk
Allsorts supports young people across Sussex under the age of 26 who are LGBT+ or exploring their gender identity and/or sexual orientation. They offer 1:1 support as well as youth groups.

Gendered Intelligence is a national trans-led charity who provide services for trans, non-binary and gender questioning people, and their families. They offer online youth groups, 1:1 support, and an annual summer camp.
Gendered Intelligence
genderedintelligence.co.uk

MindLine Trans +
www.mindinsomerset.org.uk/our-services/adult-one-to-one-support/mindline-trans/
Helpline on 0300 330 5468, available on Friday evenings between 8pm-11pm. Mindline Trans+ is a confidential emotional, mental health support helpline and signposting service for people who identify as Trans, Agender, Gender Fluid, and Non-binary.

Lots of great information and resources about social, legal and medical transition can be found here:
genderkit.org.uk
gender construction kit

transactual.org.uk
TransActual are a national, trans led and run organisation focussed specifically on working for trans people in the UK. Their work is focused on healthcare and trans people's legal protections.

TransUnite has information about transgender support groups by region.
www.transunite.co.uk
TransUnite

LGBTQ+ RESOURCES

switchboard
Helpline 01273 204050
Tuesday to Thursday
Phone - email - live webchat
www.switchboard.org.uk
Switchboard is a charity that has been listening to, supporting and connecting LGBTQ+ communities since 1975. Originally a helpline, they also deliver lots of additional services by and for LGBTQ+ people in Sussex.

Consortium has lists of services for LGBTQ+ people, by regions.
CONSORTIUM
www.consortium.lgbt/member-directory

Intercom Trust
LGBT helpline on 0800 612 3010 open 9:00 - 4:00pm Monday to Friday.
Intercom Trust also offer online counselling for LGBTQ+ people

LGBT FOUNDATION
LGBT helpline on 0345 3 30 30 30 from 9am until 9pm on a week day and between 10am and 6pm on Saturday and Sunday.
or email: helpline@lgbt.foundation

galop
Galop supports LGBTQ+ people who are victims of domestic abuse, sexual violence, hate crime, so-called conversion therapies and other forms of abuse.
www.galop.org.uk

www.fflag.org.uk
FFLAG offer support to help parents and families understand, accept and support their LGBTQ+ family members with love and pride.
FFLAG

To every LGBTQIA+ individual out there, whether you're questioning or have been out for years, you are valid, you are heard and you are loved. Be proud of who you are, not just this month but all year round.

To all the trans people reading this: I see you. You are not alone. Other people's opinions do not define you - you do. There is nothing wrong with who you are. I'm proud of you - A trans adult